Personal Information

Activities: Playing with my boys, usually as a vicious dog or monster or bear or something that growls, roars and attacks and bites. Summer 2008 with the gas prices, I found myself biking to/from work... Gardening and yard work and if ever, able to find time to get that blasted basement finished. Using the elliptical machine, treadmill, and exercise ball and weights and yoga mat on my lunch breaks at work. I'm a Denise Austin junkie as far as work out dvds go. Lost 60 lbs in about 2-3 months after my second child was born, thanks to her!

Interests: Family, church, friends, spending money a bit and living life! (like "girl's night" and family night...) donating blood, gardening, trying to make a healthier/cleaner world, helping others be happy/beautiful.

Favorite Music: Currently i'm listening to my choir cd made from highschool or the soundtrack to "music and lyrics." I love uplifting church music, country songs, 80's rock and if I need energy or am really bored, Alternative music is what I used to jog in the morning to, it gives me an adrenaline rush. Like Sublime, Weezer, Beastie Boys and really old stuff like Whitesnake (this is when the older hubby comes in handy)

Favorite TV Shows: House and NCIS and Burn Notice are my new additions. I used to love 24 but being a mother really renches your gut so i haven't seen the 2009 season...When I need to wind down or i'm cooking or cleaning i've got Hannah Montana, Friends, Everybody Loves Ray, King of Queens or According to Jim. I like to laugh in the evenings, it keeps you young and happier. Or if i'm feeling like a housewife, i've got any court tv on in the background while i'm cleaning.

Favorite Movies: Get Smart is my new all time favorite movie!!!! something for [REDACTED]
 [REDACTED]'s Life and Toy Story. Also Curious George and Thomas the Engine.

Favorite Books: The Peacegiver by James Ferrell and Hold on the Light Will Come by Michael McLean will forever be my classics... The Color Code is life altering as far as how to interact/react to yourself and others...and "10 dates to revitalize your marriage" is really interesting.

Favorite Quotations: For work: "Lack of preparation on your part, does NOT constitute an emergency on my part."
 For life: "Ask for forgiveness, not permission"
 "love yourself first"
 "The Lord, you and spouse are the decision makers in a marriage"
 "all the cliché's about children are TRUE"

About Me: Grew up in Washington state, moved to Utah. Love to garden here, want to make my backyard like the Garden of Eden as far as the abundant food always growing-part. I am a licensed cosmetologist, realtor and financial stock broker. Doing hair is my true love but it doesn't pay the bills. (WF Investments does ;-)) Enjoying the joys of raising 2 energetic boys, and wishing for the day to pamper a girl and/or twins...i know everyone else thinks i'm crazy...
