I forwarded all the e-mails she sent me last year regarding her situation with her husband at that time. If you have any questions you can contact me on my cell phone I would appreciate my name not be mentioned publicly about the matter.

His sis is working on the pi	cs and I want to print and display and post online, trust me I'm excited too!

He used to buckle me in and give me a kiss, hold doors open, sincerely worry if I didn't put on a coat, buy groceries and help me cook/clean and/or cook/clean for himself. Hang out and talk together, watch movies and relaxing tv just for entertainment. Care and make time for being with friends/group dates etc. GO TO CHURCH! NOT be all radical about the latest huge world problems that all his rantings can't fix, (although he thinks it can)

But when we moved to Utah and more specifically he got interested in being self employed/working and then we had his priorities seemed to have changed.

I know you'll be my friend no matter what, I just hope obviously that this counseling will help josh and everyone else can see the guy I fell in love with remember. Kinda Anyway, You'll have to post your family pictures when you get them. I love pictures. So where is Josh working now? Thats great that he got a job. For multiple reasons, really. I am also ecstatic to hear that you are doing something about your situation. You know what they say, faith with out works is dead. ? Or something. Glad to hear you have your first best, even though I don't particularly like Josh. I just hope you really do what is best for you and the kids, not whats best for him, because he's had it made for years. It's your turn to be happy. Might not be there next Talk to ya later. Subject: Hello Girlie! Date: Sat, 26 Jul 2008 11:26:05 -0500 From: To: My Wed: I spent in the yard: weeding, raking rocks out of the garden etc. Now exhausted, tired, and some big/raw blisters. Thurs was watching the Pioneer Day parade on tv. Feeling sorry for myself that I wasn't there, josh had to work but since my friend wasn't around, I couldn't do the video tape of possessions so they can take it off the hard drive digital video camera-just in case, either. I lazed around, laundry, cleaning, cooking, trying to nap and @ 5:30 josh's sis called to let us know we would do the family picture thing a little later-at 7. whoops, had completely forgotten about that.

not your VT

Then I backed up the garbage disposal so josh got annoyed with me (no shocker) but all gung-ho with snaking the kitchen and bathtub drains. He did mention his mom suggested he go "out with the boys for lunch on Fridays" to "fit in and be social" and he's already talking about using the little antenna balls Jack heads from Jack in the Box to "decorate his cubicle"

That's me in a nutshell-see you in church?

And ps, you made me tear up when you said, if you can't have faith, have hope at least. I WANT to have hope....Susan I don't know how you can help except talk with me and be another individual that would know about the situation if questioned b/c things went crazy later. Sad that I'm this paranoid. Sunday was ok, only b/c I think he's finally realizing that I don't expect him to come to church anymore. (less pressure on him) We were with our friends while they did family scripture reading, he looked bored, uninterested and like he was finding reasons to leave the room. We've done a little bit of cleaning/organizing around the house and I realize this is just another one of his stalling with excuses tactics, but I always wonder if he's serious about change (aka fixing our marriage), if he thinks our problems are not that bad, if he was lying to me at the start when we got married or what. My huge problem is I don't know what to believe or what to do. I don't want to divorce or separate or take the kids somewhere and he views it as an act of war if I cut off my paycheck to the joint credit union. ■ [mailto:

At one point, Josh was being his usually "rude, yelling and barking commands at me",-self and his dad was helping me take pictures and video the blanket I was giving my mom that I made and after Josh left the room I told his dad, " the winds are going to change, I can't take this crap from him anymore." I told him that when Josh starts whining that I'm being unreasonable it's b/c he's so rude and never helps with the boys/house etc. His dad told me that the entire family KNOWS how much I put up with.

His bi polar brother was a bit weird and off his meds of course so that was awkward.

We got back about 7or 8pm Thurs and Fri I worked and that night we had a huge hour long yelling fight (amazed that my voice still works) I even had to threaten calling the police b/c he was being so irrational and unpredictable. I told him he needs to change, counseling or something. And he said he didn't need don't know what to think anymore.

Biking is good, no more accidents. We are going to look into getting a better bike-you know, with actual working gears!!!, it takes only 40 minutes in the morning, about 50+ on the way home b/c it's hot, I'm tired, and there is a mile long hill at the very end, so I'm told I look like I'm dying when I get near the top. Oh well, haven't seen a weight change, but I enjoy saving the gas and getting the exercise. Josh wants to sell the Montero and get a tiny car for the winter days. Undecided on that.
