I have known Susan and Josh since they first moved here. We were some of the first friends of theirs. We had many conversations and did several things for the first 2+ years but as they found new friends their age and having a small family we backed off. Still talking and checking up on them, but not doing much with them after that. Susan cut my hair for a few years, but not recently. She also cut and colored my daughters hair consistently until she moved to England last June. She observed many things while there and I will see if she will share some of that. I have had several occasions to talk with Josh since Susan disappeared, the latest was last week when he returned some tools of my husbands. We talked for over 2 ½ hours. I am leaving town and will return Monday. I will try and write a more detailed summary of our relationship next week.

Thank you,
