Dear Alina,

I got a list of addresses from a buddy in another building. He said he lived in one of the places and it was OK. I submitted that address as my first potential release address. The information is as follows:

(1)

Services: Transitional Housing Sex Offender Clean and sober housing for single men or women. Criminal history check. Will accept felonies but must have had at least 18 months of no criminal activity. May take level 1 sex offenders (no crimes against children).

I don't know how much the rent is, but my buddy was only paying about $250 a couple of years ago. He said if you keep the place clean you won't get cock roaches.

Speaking of, Coxes were in Olympia last week to support a bill preventing Suspected murderers from having visits with their children. Of course, [redacted] was the sponsor. They were calling it the Charlie and Braden bill. My cellmate called it the Cox Beach bill. There was a lot of opposition to it by more level heads. I don't see anyone supporting a bill by [redacted] the bully of the hill. With Chuck Cox there in Olympia, there were two bills on Capitol Hill. Even if their bill passed, it would not have applied to this case in any way shape or form.

My next choices will be as follows:

There are two more addresses on the page, but they require certain income minimums. I can't prove income until I have some coming in.

There is another acquaintance here that will be giving me a list, and some addresses he has may be in Puyallup. I should have that in a few days. The Doc can take up to 35 days to check each address out, which means I can be turned down up to three times, and then I will be staying here beyond my ERD (earned-release date).

Hopefully that won't happen.

One of my friends here, that I've had at least one meal daily with since arriving leaves tomorrow, [REDACTED] I do have other friends I eat with regularly, so it won't be the end of the world, but change happens a lot around here.

Anyway, if there is anything you can find out by driving by these addresses (don't go out of the way) please let me know.

Love, Dad
